PETER JOHNSTO AND THE TUNNEL.

THE PRESIDENT OTHE COMPANY SAYS THAT THE MAN HASO RIGHT IN THE SHANTY. Presidence Witt C. Haskins, of the Hudson River

Tunnelaliway Company, was seen on Saturday in referre to the company's alleged troubles with see Johnston, the present occupant of the shooty at the foot of Fifteenth-st., Jersey City, who refuses to vacate the house, which is the property of the company, and is required for the continuance of the construction of the tunnel. Mr. Haskins said that Johnston was allowed the use of the building out of charity, as when work on the tunnel was discontinued in 1880, the man was in poor health and circumstances. During the time he has been in possession of the house Johnston has become a drunkard and his wife is nearly as had as himself. Both of them have disorderly conduct. Now that it is found necessary for the company to occupy the house, Johnston has persistently reased to get out, and says, through his lawyers, that he will push his case as far as disputing ompany's title to the premises.

Mr. Haskins said that any such investigation of the title was useless, as the property was leased by his corporation from the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company. He added that a syndicate of capitalists had been formed to prosecute the work, and that he expected operations to be begun in a short time. He denied that the company owed one cent to Johnston for salary or anything else.

A member of the firm of Bowen & Depnen, who are Johnston's lawyers, admitted that Johnston had been fined, together with his wife, for assault on had been fined, together with his wife, for assault on Patrick Walsh, one of the company's watchmen, who attempted to get possession of the house, and said that the tunnel company had offered to compromise with his client, but that no terms had been agreed upon as yet. He said he had been informed that the com-pany proposed to pull down the building if necessary, in order to get Johnston out, but that in case of such measures being taken his client would have a good remedy in the courts.

He said that It was the drift of sentiment at the meetings that coeperation was supposed to be practically on the lines of fareign and home missions, education, evangelizing the freedings, etc. After this session both committees were driven to Claremont Paix, as the greats of Logan C. TWENTY-FOUR YEARS IN ONE PULPIT.

THE REV. JOHN W. CHADWICK LOOKS BACK NEARLY A QUARTER OF A CENTURY.

"Twenty-four Years Together" was the subject of Mr. Chadwick's discourse yesterday in the Second Unitarian Church, in Brooklyn. As its title indicated, the sermon related to the completion of the twenty-fourth year of Mr. Chadwick's ministry in Brooklyn. In reality the year ended in September, as it was in that month in 1864 that he first preached in this church as a candidate; he was not installed until the the following December. Robert Collyer eached the installation sermon; and next year, at Mr. Chadwick's silver anniversary, he has promised to preach the same sermon again. Mr. Chadwick said yesterday that it was the best sermon Mr. Collyer had

In his discourse Mr. Chadwick referred to the great events that have occurred in the world since he came to Brooklyn, and then inquired more particularly as to the work done by the church during his ministry. One of the most gratifying things, he said, was the messages he was continually receiving in regard to the publication of his sermons in pamphlet form. heard about the effect of these sermons in every quarter of the globe, and was made glad by the thought that he was thus addressing a larger audience that those that habitually heard him. In closing his sermon he made an earnest appeal for both a spiritual and a working church.

Only two ministers in Brooklyn have been settled over their churches longer than Mr. Chadwick. They are Dr. Storrs, of the Church of the Pilgrims, and Dr. Henry J. Van Dyke, of the First Presbyterian Church.

ARE THE TELEGRAPH COMPANIES BEING SUED! A dispatch was published yesterday that Attorney-General Kirkpatrick, of Pennsylvania, had begun a suit against the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph Company nul their charters and forfeit their property in that State for violation of the State constitution and laws. The violation is alleged to lie in the fact that at the fime the franchise to the Baltimore and Ohio Company was granted a provision was made that that com-pany should never be sold or consolidated with any rival company, and it is alleged that the constitution of the State was violated by the sale of a controlling interest in the Baltimore and Ohio property to the Western Union Telegraph Company for $5,000,000 on October 5, 1887.

A Tribune reporter was unable to find President Norvin Green, of the Western Union, yesterday, but ex-Judge Dillon, of counsel for the company, seen at his home. He said: "This is the first I knew of any such proceedings. I am entirely ignorant of any such action except from what I have read, but one thing I can say, that by a decision of the Supreme Court no property can be forfeited. A franchise may be withdrawn for violation of its provisions, but property cannot be seized. I am quite unable to say anything further on the subject, for, as I said before, I did not even know such proceedings were contemplated."

THE ALDERMEN'S NEXT PRESIDENT.

The organization of the Board of Aldermen was a subject of some interest yesterday among the Tammany politicians. MEDALS FOR SKILLED YOUNG ARCHITECTS. The Architectural League of New-York has opened its fourth annual exhibition at the Fifth Avenue Art Galleries. The walls of the art galleries are completely covered with the 477 designs exhibited, which embrace both architecture and decorative art. as many copies of beautiful and famous ones. A little more than a year ago the league offered two medals, one of gold and one of silver, for the best two designs submitted by draughtsmen under twenty-five years There were forty competitors, and the medals were won by James M. McLeod, of St. Paul, and William B. Mundie, of Chicago.

Although the awards were made nearly a year ago, the medals, which were designed by Edwin Howland Blashfield, have only lately been completed, and last night the president of the league, John Beverley Robinon, in a short speech, presented them to the two winners. There were fifty-four competitors for the medals this year, the subject specified for the design being a tomb to an illustrious architect. The winners strain the Denver, Texas and Fort Worth Railroad Company and the Colorado and Texas Construction Company from transferring to stockholders of the Colorado and Texas Construction Company one thousand bonds of the par value of $1,900, which were issued AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

THE PEWS IN PLYMOUTH CHURCH.

A NEW ARRANGEMENT FOR DISPOSING OF THEM

-NO MORE PREMIUMS TO BE PAID. The new diagrams of Plymouth Church, showing the increased rentals placed upon the pews for the oming year, were distributed to the members yester This is the first authoritative announcement of change in the system of disposing of the pews which, in Mr. Beecher's time, were always auctione to the highest bidders on the first Tuesday in January. The fixed rentals then amounted to $12, 500, ranging from $100 for the best pews down to The premiums bid sometimes aggregated over $50,000. Last year was the first after his death for the disposal of the pews, and as the church was without a pastor, it was decided to ask the members retain their pews at the same prices, including both rental and premium, as they paid the year before. Most of them acceded to this request, and the receipts only fell off about $4,000, leaving $23,

000 for the expenses of the year. This year an entirely new plan has been decided upon. The mission work of the church has been separated from the running expenses, and will be separated from the running expenses, and will be supported by voluntary subscription. To meet the current expenses the members will have the opportunity to retain their pews at about the same amounts they have heretofore paid for rental and premium, but it is all called rental, the prices put on the pews being now about three times what they formerly were. In cases like those of John Claffin, S. V. White, R. T. Bush and others, who paid several hundreds of dollars in premiums, the pew rent will be less than they have been in the habit of paying, while in cases where good pews were obtained at a nominal premium the amount to be paid will be several times what it was. The range of prices put on the pews is now from $375 to $8. If the present occupants do not take their pews by January 0 they will be let to any one cise desiring them.

WORDS OF ADVICE TO MARINERS.

The pilot chart for January, just issued by the Hydrographic Bureau, gives some valuable data as to the efficacy of oil to break down heavy seas and lessen the perils of a laboring vessel, together with instructions to shipmasters as to the best wey for using it. In its review of the weather it furnished good suggestions to mariners that they may avoid possible disaster by noting the experiences of others In hurricanes and fogs, and noting the conditions of the thermometer and barometer at those times. Its forecast for January is as fellows:

forecast for January is as follows:

Stormy weather will prevail over the northern part of the North Atlantic and along the American coast north of Hatteras. Strong westerly and northwesterly gales may be expected every five or six days along the transatlantic stoamship routes, accompanied by violent snow squalls and followed by clear and very cold weather. In the Gulf of Mexico severe northers occur as often as once in ten days, and northerly gales are occasionally encountered in the Caribbean Sea. The northeast trades are at about their extreme southern limit. Fog will be encountered more frequently than during the last month on the Grand Banks and off the coast to the westward. Ice is seldom met with south of the latitude of Cape Race during January; a sharp lookout should be kept for it, nevertheless, especially toward the end of the moath.

THE WILL OF FRANCIS BROUTY, SR. The will of Francis Brouty, sr., father of Francis Brouty who was recently sentenced to Sing Sing for ife for the murder of Policeman Woods at Mt. Vernon, has been admitted to probate in the Surrogate's office at White Plains. It was executed in 1883. He devised to his wife $5,000 in bonds and mortgages, in lieu of dower, and also bequeathed to her all of his household furniture. To his son, who is in Sing Sing, he left the greenhouse property in Mount Vernon, together with the tools and appurtenances, valued at from $15,000 to $20,000. The will contains a clause providing that Mrs. Brouty shall have the privilege of occupying the premises in Mount Vernon as long as she remains his widow. He also bequeathed to his wife and son jointly all the money in bank at the time of his death. Mrs. Brouty and her son are the executors of the estate, which it valued at $50,000.

As the sentence of young Brouty to imprisonment for life deprives him of the right to execute any legal papers, application will be made to the Surrogate of Westchester County for the appointment of an administrator to pay his counsel fees and all other debts he may have contracted before or since the murder. The balance of his share of the estate will be decreed to his wife and two children. nances, valued at from $15,000 to $20,000.

MONEY TO BUILD A NEW CHURCH. The congregation of Christ Church at East Orange, which was burned a week ago, worshipped in Commonwealth Hall yesterday. The rector, the Rev. Hor ace S. Bishop, made a short address of sympathy and hopefulness. After recounting a few of the vicissitudes of the parish, he announced that during the past week over $17,000 had been voluntarily pledged toward the new church. This, with the $19,000 insurance, would make $36,000 out of the $50,000 needed to insure the work. He read a large number of letters of sympathy and condolence. It is prob able that the new church will cost in the neighborhood of $75,000. The rectory, which is the personal property of Mr. Eishop, will probably be moved at the expense of the parish to an adjoining lot owned by the parish.

While Pilot Charles Alkens and two sailors were boarding the Nova Scotta bark Latonie, off Block Island, in a yawi boat, the latter was capsized when alongside of the bark. Pilot Alkens and one of the sailors succeeded in catching a line thrown to them, and they were safely hauled on board. Peter Williams, the other sailor, caught hold of the log-line and was pulled through the sea, but before assistance could reach him, the line parted and he was drowned. The body was not recovered. Williams, who was a German, lived in Fifty-second-st., New York.

John P. Webber, who in 1863 on the Fredericksburg battlefield received from a dying soldier a silver watch with the request "Take this to my wife," has, after the lapse of a quarter of a century discovered the name and residence of the woman. Meantime the watch was stolen and taken to a Southern city, passing into the hands of a man with whom Mr. Webber is corresponding.
